Kyoko

Akari Kyo

Kiyoko Kyo

Tsuguko Himegami

Just as life seemed like it was going to return to "normal," Kyo literally stumbled across Kiyoko Kyo on her way to practice. Well, it turns out, it is one of the best players on the Seiga High basketball team, but he had all shown up for practice on any games since before Kyo became a member. After getting to know the friendly-looking man, Kyo eventually managed to form a bond of trust with Kyo and bring him back to the team, though she had to reveal her secret to him in the process.

Recently, Kyo and Chihara finally confessed their love for one another, though they didn't quite know what to do about it. Kyo told Chihara to meet her at an off-campus location... where he didn't even recognize her, because she was dressed and made-up as a girl.

Before their first date could get started, they bumped into their perpetually angry roommate Himegami. As a joke, they told Himegami that Kyo is actually Chihara's sister Kyoko. When Himegami couldn't stop hitting on Kyo/Kyoko, Chihara pleaded (and to get some help, smitten silly, Himegami watched as Kyo/Kyoko and ran away with her, ignoring her protests).

The Story So Far

Some people said it was going to make their dreams... even if it meant disappointing a girl with a boy who she can play on a famous boys' basketball team. If you don't believe it, just imagine how Kyo Kiyoko feels... her sister, the one who stepped up this crazy scheme!

Kyo's father was once a great basketball player who aspired to play for the NBA. Unfortunately, an injury ended his career before it even started. Despite his disappointment, he passed his love of the game—and his name—to his daughter.

Kyo wanted to date a boy, not become one, and she was not happy about her father's hockey plans... until she met Chihara Etsuo, the boy who was to be her roommate on the court... and her roommate in the dorm.

As luck would have it, Kyo and Chihara got on each other's nerves right from the start, but Kyo's attempts to get past Chihara's great, unless otherwise... eventually made the two of them friends. In time, Chihara's thoughtful kindness also kept Kyo off her feet... and she wondered if she might have some serious feelings for him.

Kyo and Chihara's peaceful coexistence was cut painfully short when an old friend of Kyo's named Tsuguko Himegami arrived on the scene. Tsuguko knew Kyo from her primary school and transferred to Seiga so they could play on the same team again. When Tsuguko learned Kyo was masquerading as a boy, she was willing to protect Kyo's secret... until Kyo proved she was unwilling to leave the boys' team. Attempting to force the issue, Tsuguko tore open Kyo's shirt in front of Chihara, revealing Kyo's breasts. Though Chihara didn't tell Kyo's secret, he did have a tough time adjusting to the idea of a female roommate.

MBQ

Omario is a struggling artist who's got a chip on his shoulder—but he's better get over himself before he ends up flipping burgers at the local McBurger Queen (MBQ). When the hopes and absurdities of making it in this world clash, he might just melt down like a cheeseburger under heat lamps. From the creative mind of Rising Stars of Manga® winner Felipe Smith comes this tragic-comic portrait of the great big, burger-fod and belly of life in this big city.

AUTHOR INFO

SHIZURU SEINO

Shizuru Seino started creating manga while in high school. Her father was supportive of her interest and she eventually published Suki Suki Da/suki, Suki Suki Darling, and Usotsuki na Kanoko as well as Power!! (which was Girl Got Game's original title in Japan). Shizuru-san has received fan praise for the way she drew the cross-dressing Kyo character convincingly as a girl and a girl masquerading as a boy.
